2015 ANNUAL YEAR IN REVIEW
2015 Highlights

- A NEW DIGITAL FRONT DOOR
  After two years of development, we launched our new website greatcircle.org. This comprehensive new tool is the easiest way to discover how Great Circle can help you. It’s a one-stop shop to all things Great Circle: from program information to latest news to how you can help change your community or get involved.

- WELCOME TO THE FAMILY
  In August, Great Circle merged with Butterfield Youth Services in Marshall, Missouri. The agencies shared like missions and rich histories of serving children and families in Missouri. Now called the Tom Butterfield Campus in honor of BYS’s founder, the Marshall campus is continuing its long legacy of helping children and families and serving more people than ever before as part of Great Circle.

- MAJOR SCHOOL EXPANSION
  The Great Circle School on the St. Louis Campus underwent a major expansion and renovation in 2015. Providing specialized education in a uniquely designed building, our highly trained professionals support students in developing academic and social skills. Children with behavior and emotional disorders, autism, learning and social difficulties now have small classrooms, individualized education plans and, most importantly, fun as they learn and play in their improved school and courtyard.

- COMMITTMENT TO EXCELLENCE WITH TRAUMA INFORMED CARE
  Great Circle is well on its way to being “trauma informed.” At the highest level, trauma informed care requires rigorous certification plus including brain science in training and therapy. To achieve this, we’ve aligned with the leading developers of the neurosequential model (NM), a brain science that connects the impact of childhood traumas to mental and emotional development. With our NM certification nearly complete, Great Circle is delivering effective, excellent care that reflects today’s best practices.

- COMMUNITY COUNSELING CENTERS OFFER HELP AND HOPE
  Life brings all kinds of circumstances. It’s not just courageous, it’s widely encouraged and totally okay to ask for and accept help. This is why Great Circle is opening community counseling centers across the state... so that everyone and anyone can access the services they need in a safe and welcoming environment. In 2015, we opened our first two centers in St. Louis and St. Joseph!
